

OSM-BAT DECISION

Standard: EN 62133-1:2017 EN 62133-2:2017 + AMD1:2021	Sub clause: 5.7 5.7	Sheet No.: DSH 0788A
Subject: Duties to demonstrate compliance	Key words: Duties, compliance, procedures, self-declaration	Meeting: Frankfurt 2024
Question:  What are the duties (e.g.: on-site inspection) and/or the requirements of the test laboratory (e.g.: copy of the relevant QM procedures of the Manufacturer) to ensure the manufacturer is in compliance with clause 5.7 of EN 62133-1 or clause 5.7 of EN 62133-2?
Decision:  Compliance to this clause is established when :  1) The manufacturer supplies a self-declaration document (SD) stating that manufacturer has in place all relevant procedures, both the design and processes of the product, to address clause 5.7 of EN 62133-1 or clause 5.7 of EN 62133-2. This SD shall be signed by a person legally entitled to represent the manufacturer;  or  2) The manufacturer provides an ISO 9001 Certificate which covers both design and processes of the product, that is still valid at the time of testing the product and covers the principle process of manufacturing batteries under the scope of EN 62133-1 or EN 62133-2.
Explanatory notes:  In order to harmonize the test laboratory practices regarding this clause, the above mentioned alternatives are acceptable.
